Numb. 24.

THE BSERVATOR.

...iner of the 22d inſtant. 'Tis he, and not the Whigs, who miſrepreſents the Tory-... of Paſſive Obedience, for which he is to be hang'd by High-Church Law, and damn'd ... Goſpel, their Univerſity-Decrees, and ipſo-facto Excommunications, being found guilty ...nderſon, Foreman of the Jury. The way for him to obtain Abſolution. Roger is to ... Bottle of October.

From Wednesday, March 21. to Saturday, March 24. 1711.

...RAY, Maſter, give me your Thoughts of the Examiner's Accounts of Paſſive Obedience, in his Paper of the 22d inſtant: ...one of it as charg'd by the Whigs, ...s profeſs'd and practis'd by the To-...plains moſt terribly that the Whigs ...miſrepreſent it, and are very unjuſt ... in this matter. He values himſelf ... his undertaking to ſet it in a fair ...he thinks has not yet been done; ſo ... wonderful Performance in his own ...

...Examiner and his Brother Abel are ...raveſt Fellows that ever I met with, ...ey be kick'd and cuff'd for telling of ... day, their Courage is ſo great, ...er flinch for it; and their Com-...well fix'd, that they never bluſh at ...l don't ſtruggle hard, the Examiner ...get the Chair from him; and for ...ow from every body elſe.

...As how, Maſter?

... Roger, I will admit, for Argu-...e Examiner's own Account of Paſ-..., which he has forg'd for the Whigs, ...ravated Circumſtances; and under-...t appear that his Party have ſcru'd ...height of all thoſe monſtrous Rants ...higs charge it with, tho not in the ...al Expreſſions: and if I do that, ...ll allow the Examiner not only de-...r from Abel, but even from Sir S—.

...With all my heart, Maſter.

... I come directly to the point, Ro-...obſerve the Examiner's Inconſiſtency ...Account, and the Huddle of his con-...s. His Inconſiſtency is plain from ...makes the Whigs ſay, 'The Tories ... a King, even in a limited Monar-...his Power only from God, is only ...to him, and that ſuch a King is a-...w.' Now, Roger, the Whigs, on ... charge the Tories with being for an ...onarchy; and if they be miſtaken, ...emſelves are to blame for miſleading ... late Addreſſes, wherein they told ... that they were for Loyalty without ...for Obedience without Reſtriction, Li-...Reſerve, as 'twas expreſs'd by the ...iends of Brecon, New Sarum, &c. ... not be ſo unmannerly as to ſuggeſt, ...ple told the Queen a parcel of Un-...rofeſs'd to believe what they did not. ...t many of the Party made ſo bold ... Countrym. This may ſerve the Examiner for a Tooth-Picker, and I hope will open the Eyes of our modern Addreſſers, when they ſee their profeſs'd Champion is become ſo modeſt, that he is aſham'd to own their Doctrine, and plainly denies it. But pray go on, Maſter.

Obſ. The Examiner's Thoughts are in ſuch a Huddle of Confuſion, Roger, that he falls into downright Bulls; for 'tis impoſſible that a King can be limited by human Laws, or anſwerable to any but God, if he hold his Power only from him: yet this he makes the Whigs to charge upon the Tories, which is a new Obligation of his own to his Friends, for all the Whigs that ever I heard of, took it to be quite otherwiſe, as I hinted above, and thought the Addreſſes of New Sarum and Brecon to be the genuine Senſe of the Tories. The Examiner's Head is likewiſe ſo muddled, Roger, that he jumbles Indefeaſible Hereditary Right and Paſſive Obedience together, which ſhews our Friend to be no extraordinary Logician; for tho theſe things be as near a-kin as Siſter and Brother, they are not the very ſame. I think he ought to take a Trip to Oxford or Cambridge, and learn to diſtinguiſh better.

Countrym. I fancy he had better ſtay where he is, Maſter; for ſince he has own'd there are Caſes where it may be lawful to reſiſt a Prince, the Univerſity of Oxon have, by their Addreſſes, declar'd all thoſe who believe ſo to be Maintainers of Popiſh and Republican Doctrines. So that I think they may cry quits with the Examiner, and have as good reaſon to diſown him, as he has to deny their Principles. But pray come to the point, Maſter, and ſhew me how the Tories come up to all thoſe monſtrous Rants of Paſſive Obedience, which the Examiner ſays are falſly charg'd upon them by the Whigs.

Obſ. That I ſhall quickly do, Roger. In the 12th of Car. 2. cap. 30. 'tis declar'd, 'That by 'the undoubted and fundamental Laws of this 'Kingdom, neither the Peers of this Realm, 'nor the Commons, nor both together in Parliament or out of Parliament, nor the People collectively or repreſentatively, nor any other Perſons whatſoever, ever had, hath, or ought to 'have any coercive Power over the Perſons of 'the Kings of this Realm.' By the 13th & 14th Car. 2. cap. 3. 'tis enacted, 'That 'tis not 'lawful, upon any pretence whatſoever, to take 'Arms againſt the King; and that 'tis a traitorous 'Poſition to ſay, that Arms may be taken by his 'Authority againſt his Perſon, or againſt thoſe 'that are commiſſion'd by him.' And by cap. 4. of that ſame year, this Declaration was enjoin'd upon all the Clergy, and by the Corporation-

Act

Act on all Magiſtrates of Boroughs. Now, Roger, this was the Senſe of the Tory Legiſlature and Church in a Tory Reign, and condemns all Reſiſtance of Princes on any pretence whatever to be traitorous; which takes in all thoſe odious Caſes mention'd by the Examiner: viz. 'That tho a 'King ſhould force our Wives and Daughters, 'murder our Children before our faces, cut off '500 Heads in a morning for diverſion, and mur-'der every Man he meets in the Streets of Lon-'don; or tho he ſhould commiſſion others to do 'ſo, he is not to be reſiſted.' By neceſſary Conſequence then the Examiner has diſown'd and bely'd the Principles of his Party both in Church and State, and ought by them to be accounted a Traitor, according to this Doctrine.

Countrym. I believe our Friend will have much ado to get his Neck out of this Halter, Maſter. But pray go on.

Obſ. The Examiner ſtands alſo condemn'd, Roger, by the Radnor Addreſs, which was preſented by a very great Friend of his, and aſſerts that her Majeſty's Power and Authority over us is according to the preceding Act of the 12*th of* Car. 2. But he and the Nineteen in Twenty of the Tories of his Stamp, are ſtill in a much worſe Condition by the Oxford Decree; which declares the Propoſitions he puts in the mouth of his Tories, relating to Paſſive Obedience and Hereditary Right, to be falſe, ſeditious, and impious, infamous to the Chriſtian Religion, and deſtructive of all Government in Church and State.

Countrym. Bleſs me, Maſter, I pity the poor Man; for at this rate he is to be hang'd by the Law, and damn'd by the Goſpel, according to the Verdict of his own Party. Surely they will look out for a better Advocate; and if he be wiſe, 'tis time he ſhould think of more grateful Clients.

Obſ. He is as unmercifully treated by the Convocation, Roger, as by thoſe Acts of Car. 2. the Decree of the Univerſity, or our modern Addreſſers. Dr. Sacheverel needs not call upon his Superiour Paſtors to thunder out their Anathema's againſt him; for that's done to their hand by the ſecond Canon of 1603. which 'ipſo facto excom-'municates all thoſe who ſay the Kings of England 'are more limited in the Exerciſe of their Impe-'rial Power, than were the Chriſtian Emperors of 'the Primitive Church, or the Godly Kings a-'mong the Jews.' Now, Roger, we have an Explanation of that Power by two Genuine Sons of the Church; the firſt is Dr. Sherlock in his Caſe of Reſiſtance, p. 6, 8, 10. where he quotes Deut. 17. 8, 12. The Man that will do preſumptuouſly, and will not hearken to the Prieſt or the Judg, even that Man ſhall die. 'This is as abſolute Monarchy, 'ſays the Doctor, as the moſt abſolute Monarch 'in the World can challenge.' The next is Dr. Heylin, in his Stumbling-Block of Diſobedience, Cap 6. Sect. 7. p. 2. where he ſays, 'The Kings 'of England are more abſolute Monarchs than 'either of their Neighbours of France or Spain.'

To theſe we ſhall add a greater Man than either of 'em, Roger; viz. Biſhop Sanderſon, who fol. 522. of his Works, ſays, 'That 'tis not lawful to take 'up Arms offenſive or defenſive againſt a lawful 'Sovereign upon any colour or pretenſion what-'ever; not for the avoiding of Scandal, not at 'the Inſtance or Command of any Power upon 'Earth; not for the Maintenance of the Lives 'or Liberties either of our ſelves or others, nor 'for the Defence of Religion; not for the Pre-'ſervation of a Church or State; no nor yet, if 'that could be imagin'd poſſible, for the Salvation of 'a Soul; no not for the Redemption of 'World.' Now, Roger, this carries much higher than to ſay we may not the Chaſtity of our Wives and Da tho they ſhould be damn'd for their or to ſave the Lives of our Children, the Citizens of London, tho they Hell the next moment: for that's compariſon of the whole World.

Countrym. The Examiner muſt the Chair, Maſter: Poor Abel will to recover it. Had the Examiner Reign of King James I. when that Prince of diverſion promis'd his beſt Horſe could tell the greateſt Lye, he muſt carry'd the Prize; for you have Maſter, by Acts of Parliament and Univerſity-Decrees, modern Addreſſes, tations from great Divines, that the foully bely'd both Tories and Whigs, plain Matters of Fact and authentick

Obſ. The Man is in a wretched ger; for you ſee as plain as a Pike-ſtaff excommunicated by the ſecond Canon, be abſolv'd but only by the Archbiſhop Repentance, and the Revocation of Error, for juſtifying the Reſiſtance ries made at the Revolution. Now would adviſe him before a Capias especially before Tom Whig dies, to Lambeth with Nineteen in Twenty Friends, and beg Abſolution; for Sacheverellite Stamp ever come to epiſcopal Throne, they may perhaps eaſy to obtain their Requeſt.

Countrym. How you miſtake the I perceive you Schollards han't alwa about you, no more than we Cou The good old Archbiſhop will be thinking the Examiner and his Fri ſolution, that he will rejoice at the and give them his Bleſſing and Con owning the Lawfulneſs of the Revolu blackening it and the Means by wh fected, a la mode de Sacheverel: But 'twill be neceſſary that the Examin under his own hand, and thoſe of Twenty of his modern Tories, that renounc'd the Principles of the old wiſe I don't ſee how they can be Members of the Low-Church. And are excommunicated by High-Church, that at laſt they will be own'd by no

Obſ. I muſt confeſs you diſtinguiſh ger, and that I ought to ſubmit to mean time be ſo charitable as to ſen miner a Bottle of October, after you bour'd him thus with your Oaken T am afraid he has forfeited all his certain Club, and that they won't allo drop of Lewis XIV's Cordial to ſuppor few Days ago the Queen Dowager of Poland had an Audience of the Pope, and acquainted him with her Inclination to leave this Place and retire to France, there to lead a recluſe not having Means ſufficient to live publickly to her Quality. To this the Pope is have reply'd, that the great Expences the al Chamber is oblig'd to, at preſent, diſabling lowing her Majeſty a ſufficint Annual Penwas for her to conſider and do what was r. We had t'other Day a great Tumult y: A Clipper of Coyn being condemn'd and brought to the Square of Colonna g'd on a Gibbet erected (as is the Cuſtom Scaffold, a Maſon got upon the Scafeeded, cut the Rope, threw the Ladder the Scaffold to the Ground, and then and took to his Heels. The Action was that the Crowd began to cry out of Pardon, a Pardon. Upon this the Sbirri made Maſon, and overtook him before he could ſanctuary in a Church towards which he was But he ſtanding on his Defence with a Hand, they gave him ſeveral Blows and im Sprawling: A Footman belonging to gueſe Envoy ſeeing them treat him ſo call'd them Names; and they ſeeing the gathering about them, and imagining beſet, one of them fired a Piſtol at the and ſhot him dead. A Companion of his drew his Sword, ran the Perſon who fired through the Body, and being aſſiſted by his Comrades with their drawn Swords Way from among the Sbirri and got clear this time the Guards drew together, and the Mobb, the Execution of the Clipper As for the Maſon, it appearing that he in his Brain, he was ſent to the Mad-

From the Hague Courant, dated March 27.

Rome, March 7. The Time which the Duke of Savoy had ſet for the Stay here of his Envoy Count Gubernati, to endeavour to accomodate the Differences between this Court and that of Turin, being expired, without the concluding of any Accommodation, that Miniſter intimated ſome Days ago to the Pope, that he could no longer defer his Departure, the Duke his Maſter having not thought fit to prolong his Commiſſion. His Holyneſs being extremely concern'd at this, and being very much diſpos'd to an Accomodation, caus'd a private Congregation of Eight Cardinals to be held in his Preſence on Wedneſday laſt, to deliberate on the Matter; and 'tis ſaid 'twas therein reſolv'd to come to a ſpeedy Agreement, if his Royal Highneſs will be any thing flexible on his Part. The great Caution with which the Miniſters of the Houſe of Auſtria grant Paſsports to thoſe who would go into the Kingdom of Naples, and the ſtrict Inſpection they cauſe to be made into the Letters ſent thither, make us imagine here that they are apprehenſive of ſome great Commotion there; and 'tis reported, that among thoſe Perſons whom the Magiſtrates of Naples have caus'd to be ſiez'd for Practices againſt the Government, one is an Abbot, Brother of Count Juliani once Agent here for the Duke of Modena, who went into the Kingdon of Naples to ſow among the People Seeds of Diſcontent. The Queen Dowager of Poland has not yet declar'd her final Reſolution about going to France, nor to what Cloyſter there ſhe will retire. The Envoy of Portugal has within a few Days made ſeveral Viſits to the Prince d' Avellino Embaſſador of King Charles III, and advis'd with him about the Satisfaction which he has actually demanded of the Pope for the killing of his Footman by one of the Sbirri. The Maſon who was the cauſe of all the Uproar in which that Accident happen'd, has been condemn'd to Death; but it appearing upon very ſtrict Enquiry that he is really Mad, Execution is reſpited.

Falmouth, March 17. This Day came in here from cruizing her Majeſty's Ships the Southſea-Caſtle Pearle and Dunwich, who Yeſterday off the Coaſt of France met the Joſeph Galley of and for Lisbon from Morlaix, Martin White Maſter, and a Dutch Ship from Rotterdam for Nantz, Gomer Vergez Maſter, of 36 Guns, laden with Powder, Arms, Pitch and Tar, &c. and brought them both in as Prizes. Came in alſo the Flying Mercury Privateer of Fluſhing, William Williamſon Maſter, from cruizing, and brought in a French Privateer of 12 Guns.

Lisbon, March 10. The Portugueze having resolved to retake Miranda de Duero, the Troops designed for that Service are assembled by this time, and they hope suddenly to hear that they have dislodged the Spaniards from thence. Notwithstanding the pressing Instances of the Earl of Portmore, the Campaign will be opened but late in Alentejo, for the Troops employ'd before Miranda must come back, and the Horse will hardly be able to take the Field before the middle of April. Sir John Jennings continues here with 5 Regiments on board for Catalonia; but is ready to sail for Barcelona, being not willing to stay any longer for the Ships and Forces he expected from Ireland.

Harwich, March 24. On Thursday all the Transports with Horses and Recruits, and the 3 Yatchs with the Officers sailed for Holland, under Convoy of 6 Men of War. The Faulcon, Nich. Lofe Master, sailing out came a ground on the Andrews, and received so much damage, that 70 Horses she had on board were dismbarked and left ashoar.

Deal, March 25. On the 23d came down her Majesty's Ships Edgar, Monmouth and Diamond, with the Toddington and Thistleworth, both for the East-Indies, 5 Ships for Barbadoes, 8 for Antegoa and 4 for New-England, Nevis, St Christophers and Guiney; and last Night came down, Her Majesty's Ships Cumberland and Milford, with several Transports and outward bound among 'em the Montague and Litchfield for the East-Indies. The 6 Men of War formerly mentioned are still here, and just now arrived the John Galley in 32 Days from Jamaica very richly laden, after having been chased in the Channel by several Privateers.
